Sustainable Design Lecture

Energy Efficient Sustainable Commercial Buildings in Germany:  Design and evaluation of advanced energy and climate design concepts
Professor M. N. Fisch, Institute for Building and Solar Technology, Technical University of Braunschweig
Tuesday 13 September 6-7.30pm Place: Lecture Theatre 3 Wilkinson Building, 148 City Road
In this lecture Professor Fisch will explore the EVA-project, which evaluates the performance of 20 outstanding office buildings in Germany such as the NORD LB-Tower by Behnisch. These buildings represent today’s most ambitious sustainable energy design. By identifying and evaluating causes for energy inefficiency and uncomfortable indoor climate quality, future designs and engineering processes can be improved to secure good building performance.
