Urban Design and Architecture as a team game

August 1 - 11

DesignInc Masterclass

The master class will focus on urban design and architecture as a team game. A multidisciplinary process involving a wide range of knowledge and skills from landscape and environmental studies to engineering.

The focus project will be an urban design and architectural project in China, in a cultural context of mountain and lakes.

The Master Class will be conducted in the DesignInc office at North Sydney and will have input from our whole design team.

The University of Sydney Faculty of Architecture