APPLICATION FOR STUDY ABROAD

For students who wish to undertake study abroad at an institution that is not a University of Sydney exchange partner, they may apply to study abroad as a free mover.

As we have no formal exchange agreements with these institutions, students are required to organise all aspects of their study abroad independently. This includes admission, enrolment and non academic requirements such as visa, accommodation and all other travel, living and academic expenses.

IMPORTANT:
Study abroad students will need to suspend their degree for the duration of their time away. This will affect any payments you receive from scholarships or government benefits.

ELIGIBILITY:

• A student must be enrolled in either a Bachelor’s degree or Master’s degree administered by the Faculty of Arts and Social Sciences.
• A student must have sufficient credit remaining in their degree to undertake study abroad. Please note core units of study cannot be taken whilst abroad.
• A student’s degree must be in good order and consistent with the progression of their enrolled award course.
• A student must have an academic average of 60% or more in the degree within which they are applying to study abroad. This includes students who have transferred and upgraded.
