Examples of potential cross-listed units of study include: ARIS6904 Crisis of Democracy in the Developing World; DVST6901 Rethinking Poverty; GEOS5501 Human Rights and the Environment; HSTY6990 Genocide in Global Perspective; and PRFM6900 Theatre and Community Development.

Approval to include cross-listed units of study must be obtained from the Postgraduate Coordinator or MPACS Distance Coordinator. All commencing PACS postgraduate students should discuss their proposed program of study with the Postgraduate Coordinator, Dr Lynda-ann Blanchard (Tel. +61 2 9351 3971, email: lynda.blanchard@sydney.edu.au), or the MPACS Distance Coordinator, Associate Professor Jake Lynch (Tel. +61 2 9351 5440, email: jake.lynch@sydney.edu.au).

STOP PRESS

An information session for new PACS postgraduate students in 2010 will be held from 12 noon – 2 pm on Monday 1 March in Mackie Seminar Room 107, Mackie Building, Arundel St, University of Sydney (across the footbridge over Parramatta Rd from the main campus). The session is designed to assist students in selecting units of study, including whether or not to take up the option of completing a dissertation.
