CPACS Publications

Books

In his critical analysis of the geopolitical economy of Australia, Erik Paul establishes causal links between the neoliberal state violence within society and Australia’s external aggression as part of the US imperial project in Asia. ($60.00)

Helen Sykes (ed.), Future Justice, Future Leaders, 2010
This book is concerned with what those living today leave behind for future generations. The authors explore the meaning of future justice and our responsibilities with respect to the environment, politics, science, human rights, sexuality and economics. ($10.00)

Jake Lynch and Johan Galtung, Reporting Conflict: New Directions in Peace Journalism, University of Queensland Press, 2010
The book critiques War Journalism in a way to put forward the case for Peace Journalism in advancing more contextual understanding of the world. The book present case studies of the media coverage of 9/11 and the wars in Afghanistan and Iraq. ($40.00)

Richard Hil and Elizabeth Branigan (eds.), Surviving Care: Achieving justice and healing for the Forgotten Australians, Bond University Press, 2010
This book deliberates on the issues and challenges facing the Forgotten Australians: those who experienced life in orphanages, children’s homes or other forms of out-of-home care. ($30.00)

Lynda Blanchard and Leah Chan (eds), Ending War, Building Peace, Sydney University Press, 2009
Borne out of CPACS’ successful 2008 conference Iraq, Never Again: Ending War, Building Peace, this book includes chapters by a number of the conference presenters, as well as members of CPACS and SPF. It is published in celebration of the 20th Anniversary of the founding of CPACS. ($35.00)

Reychler, Funk Deckard and Villanueva (eds.), Building Sustainable Futures: Enacting Peace and Development, University of Deusto Bilbao, 2009
Following the 2008 IPRA Global Conference this collaboration of papers explores the interaction between economic development, environmental change, conflict prevention and peacebuilding efforts in the 21st century. ($30.00)

This book tells the stories of eighteen Tibetan refugees who were forced to flee their homeland to seek safety in exile or were born to a life in exile. Each Story shows the impact of ongoing human rights violations on daily life, hazardous journeys, loss of homeland and culture, separation from family and friends and the challenges associated with starting a new life in exile. ($10.00)

Jake Lynch traces the major controversies in this emerging field – philosophical, pedagogical and professional – and links his own contribution to them with important new material. ($35.00)

This book sheds light on the enormous tragedies that the people of Tamil experienced during the freedom war. It aims at creating the awareness among future generations about the cost that was paid to gain that freedom. ($10.00)
Hilary N Summy, Peace Angel of World War 1 – Dissent of Margaret Thorp, Australian Centre for Peace and Conflict Studies, 2006
Hilary tells the neglected story of Margaret Thorp, a 25-year-old Quaker who played a courageous role in anti-war and anti-conscription campaigns in Australia during World War 1. ($30.00)

Looks at the causes of war and suggests some fresh and powerful strategies on what we can do to reduce its fearful damage. ($25.00)

Explains how most coverage of conflict unwittingly fuels further violence, and proposes workable options to give peace a chance. ($60.00)

A critical exploration of peace journalism, a mode of coverage that proposes alternatives to the preference of war in the media professional culture.

Dissecting the relationship between Australia and the US this book looks at how Australia has become a key player in maintaining American dominance in South East Asia, and looks critically at the contrast between Australia’s wealth and the comparative poverty of surrounding nations.

In a dark and pessimistic time, "Passion for Peace" is a timely and uplifting work. Written in an engaging and optimistic style, combining poetry and prose, this book is both practical and philosophical, showing how a creative use of power can contribute to peace with justice in any context or country. ($39.95)

   Out of print

Business needs human rights. Can human rights influence business, locally, nationally and internationally? Contributors include business leaders, lawyers, social scientists and human rights advocates. Doing business and addressing human rights can be interwoven. Published in association with the Centre for Peace and Conflict Studies. ($33.00)

   Not available through CPACS

A comprehensive discussion of the idea of world federation. For all those interested in the ‘New World Order’ this book provide answers to the questions: Why should we want it? How might we get there? ($30.80)

   Not available through CPACS

This book criticises current managerial trends and proposes as an alternative ‘The Recovery of Humanity’. The authors advocate more collaborative workplace practices that recognise the importance and interdependence of human and environmental well-being. ($33.00)

Reliance on one brand of economics has led to humanitarian, social and ethical considerations being swept aside in favour of claims of economic efficiency. This book provides both an account of this rationalism and the means by which it can be challenged and replaced by a more socially responsible alternative. ($27.50)

   Out of print
Reports
The report is a rebuttal of International Crisis Group report no. 188, which declared KNPB (Komite Nasional Papua Barat – the West Papua National Committee) responsible for acts of violence. This report challenges these accounts and provides a different set of data on what is taking place in West Papua.

CPACS Newsletter ‘PeaceWrites’
The newsletter of the Centre for Peace and Conflict Studies, PeaceWrites, is published twice a year. It includes news on the Centre’s postgraduate Peace and Conflict Studies teaching programme and conferences, seminars, publications, peace initiatives and other items of interest.

CPACS Occasional Paper Series
Since 1998, CPACS has published the annual Sydney Peace Prize Lectures as part of its occasional papers series. These papers can be ordered separately from the list below, or a complete set of 10 papers (1998 – 2007) for $100. (Member price $90). Order as PEACE PRIZE SET.

No. 09/2  John Pilger, Breaking the Australian Silence, 2009 City of Sydney Peace Prize Lecture, 2009 ($11.00; Member price $8.80)

No. 09/1  Peter King, Undermining Proliferation: Nuclear Winter and Nuclear Renunciation, 2009 ($6.60; Member price $5.50)

No. 08/1  Patrick Dodson, In Search of Change – Robed in Justice, 2008 City of Sydney Peace Prize Lecture, 2008 ($11.00; Member price $8.80)

No. 07/2  Hans Blix, The Globalization of Peace, 2007 City of Sydney Peace Prize Lecture, 2007 ($11.00; Member price $8.80)

No. 07/1  Jake Lynch, Promoting Dissent, Reviving Democracy, 2007 Sydney Peace Foundation 10th Anniversary Lecture ($6.60; Member price $5.50)

No. 06/1  Irene Khan, Tough Choices in a Tough World: Peace, Security and Human Rights, 2006 City of Sydney Peace Prize Lecture, 2006 ($11.00; Member price $8.80)

No. 05/4  Dr Alison Broinowski, Adolescent or Geriatric? The Future of the United Nations, 2005 ($6.60; Member price $5.50)

No. 05/3  Olara A. Oununu, Saving Our Children from the Scourge of War: 2005 City of Sydney Peace Prize Lecture, 2005 ($11.00; Member price $8.80)

No. 05/2  Robert Fisk, *Robert Fisk Speaks on ‘The Great War for Civilisation’. 2005 Transcription of public lecture given by Robert Fisk on October 5, 2005 at The University of Sydney. ($11.00; Member price $8.80)

No. 05/1  Iris Wielders, The Roles of Australian and Aotearoa/NewZealand Development NGOs in Conflict Prevention, 2005 ($6.60; Member price $5.50)

No. 04/2  Arundhati Roy, Peace & the New Corporate Liberation Theology: 2004 City of Sydney Peace Prize Lecture, 2004 ($11.00; Member price $8.80)

No. 04/1  Gareth Evans, No More Rwandas or Darfurs: The International Responsibility to Protect, 2004 Address by Gareth Evans at the University of Sydney, including Q&A session that followed. ($6.60; Member price $5.50)
A complete transcript of the 2003 City of Sydney Peace Prize Lecture, including the comments Hanan Ashrawi added to her written speech.
($11.00; Member price $8.80)

No. 03/2  Iris Wielders (ed.), Achieving Peace with Justice II: Four Case Studies, 2003
($6.60; Member price $5.50)

No. 03/1  Alison Boyd, Dagny Fosen, Valerie Ley and Donna Mosford, Conflict Transformation by Peaceful Means: A Workshop with Professor Johan Galtung, 2003
($6.60; Member price $5.50)

No. 02/2  Mary Robinson Human Rights at the Heart of Peace, 2002 City of Sydney Peace Prize Lecture, 2002
($11.00; Member price $8.80)

($6.60; Member price $5.50)

($11.00; Member price $8.80)

No. 01/1  Jane Fulton (ed.), Achieving Peace with Justice: Five Case Studies, 2001
($6.60; Member price $5.50)

($11.00; Member price $8.80)

No. 00/3  Kerry O'Donohue, Off the Record: Gaps and Shortcomings in NSW Disability Services, 2000
($11.00; Member price $8.80)

No. 00/2  Michael Jarque, Work for All? Examining the Prospects for Full Employment in the New Millenium, 2000
($11.00; Member price $8.80)

No. 00/1  Desmond Tutu, Peace through Reconciliation: 1999 Sydney Peace Prize Lecture, 2000
($11.00; Member price $8.80)

No. 99/3  Muhammad Yunus, Peace is Freedom from Poverty: 1998 Sydney Peace Prize Lecture, 1999 ($11.00; Member price $8.80)

($16.50; Member price $14.40)

($6.60; Member price $5.50)

($6.60; Member price $5.50)

No. 98/1  Steven J. Jackson, Exploring the Use of Violence in Sport Advertising, 1998
($6.60; Member price $5.50)

($6.60; Member price $5.50)

($6.60; Member price $5.50)
($6.60; Member price $5.50)

($6.60; Member price $5.50)

No. 96/2 Mary M. Moyer, The Bosnian War and Nonviolent Alternatives, 1996
($6.60; Member price $5.50)

($6.60; Member price $5.50)

No. 95/2 Wendy Lambourne (ed.), Speaking Out Against Violence: National and International Perspectives on Violence Against Women, 1995
($16.50; Member price $14.40)

($6.60; Member price $5.50)