SPECIAL ACKNOWLEDGEMENT:

MS ANNIE CORLETT

The Michael W. Jackson Prize for study in Government is generously supported by a donation from Ms Annie Corlett, BEc ‘80, President of the University of Sydney Alumni Council.

In respect of the seven prizes listed below, the School and the Department of Government and International Relations, gratefully acknowledge the extremely generous gift support provided by Ms Annie Corlett, which augments the financial value of each award.

1. Emeritus Professor F.A. Bland Prize
2. Hedley Bull Prize in International Politics
3. Mayer Prize in Political Theory
4. Stephen Salsbury Prize for the Relationship of Economics to Politics
5. Turner Prize for the First Year Government
6. Helen Nelson Prize for Best IVth Year Honours Thesis
7. Henry S. Albinski Prize
8. Michael W Jackson Prize for Study in Government
Rod Tiffen is an Emeritus Professor in Government and International Relations at the University of Sydney, where he begun as a lecturer in 1979. During his time at the University he has also undertaken reviews of Radio Australia, and in 1994 under the auspices of AusAid and the ABC Rod worked with the NGO Media Monitoring Project as an observer during the first democratic South African election. He also played a part in the independent Finkelstein inquiry into the media.

Rod’s major research area has always been media and politics, and he has published several books relating to these topics, most recently Disposable Leaders: Media and Leadership Coups from Menzies to Abbott (2017), Rupert Murdoch: A Reassessment (2014), and How Australia Compares (2009).
PRIZES IN PEACE AND CONFLICT STUDIES

POSTGRADUATE PRIZES

THE CHERYL MINKS PRIZE IN PEACE AND CONFLICT STUDIES
Established in 2008, by donations from members and supporters of the Department, in recognition of the contribution of Cheryl Minks, former teacher and practitioner in areas such as non-violent conflict resolution, to the discipline of Peace and Conflict Studies. This prize is awarded annually on the recommendation of the Chair of the Department of Peace and Conflict Studies, to the student who submits the best Dissertation in the Master of Peace and Conflict Studies.

THE GORDON RODLEY PRIZE IN PEACE AND CONFLICT STUDIES
This prize was established in 2008 by donations from members and supporters of the Department, in recognition of the significant contribution of Gordon Rodley to the creation of the Department of Peace and Conflict Studies. This prize is awarded annually on the recommendation of the Director of the Department of Peace and Conflict Studies, to the student showing the greatest proficiency in the Master of Peace and Conflict Studies.

PRIZEWINNERS

PRIZES IN ANTHROPOLOGY

POSTGRADUATE PRIZES

DEPARTMENT OF ANTHROPOLOGY PRIZE FOR DEVELOPMENT STUDIES
The Department of Anthropology coordinates and undertakes much of the teaching in the interdisciplinary Development Studies postgraduate program, offering Master, Graduate Diploma and Graduate Certificate awards. In 2009, the Department established an annual prize for the highest achieving graduating student in the Master of Development Studies, where the candidate’s work is of sufficient merit.

UNDERGRADUATE PRIZES

FRANK ALBERT PRIZE FOR ANTHROPOLOGY I
In 1927 Frank Albert of Sydney donated 100 pounds to the University of Sydney to establish a prize to recognise proficiency in first year Anthropology. This prize is awarded annually on the recommendation of the Chair of the Department of Anthropology, to the student showing greatest proficiency in first year Anthropology units. The prize is awarded on the results in junior Anthropology units, provided that the work is of sufficient merit.

FRANK BELL MEMORIAL PRIZE FOR ANTHROPOLOGY
This prize was established in 1967 by an offer from the Anthropological Society of New South Wales of an annual donation in memory of the late F.L.S. Bell, a founder and notable member of the Society. The prize is awarded annually to the most outstanding Anthropology student of the year, on the recommendation of the Chair of the Department of Anthropology, provided that the student’s work is of sufficient merit.

RICHARD B. DAVIS PRIZE FOR ASIAN ANTHROPOLOGY
Established in 1982 by an endowment of $1,000 by the Trustees of the Richard B Davis Memorial Fund in memory of Dr Richard B Davis who completed his PhD Degree at the University of Sydney in 1974 and died in 1981. The prize is awarded annually, on the recommendation of the Chair of Department, for the best thesis on an Asian topic submitted by a candidate in the Honours year in the Department of Anthropology, provided the candidate’s work is of sufficient merit.
PRIZE FOR OUTSTANDING ACHIEVEMENT IN ANTHROPOLOGY HONOURS

Honours students in Anthropology undertake a demanding course of study, comprising both coursework and a supervised thesis of 20,000 words. In 2009, the Department of Anthropology established an annual prize for Anthropology Honours to recognise scholarship of an outstanding standard in the Honours year. A high standard of achievement qualifies students to progress to higher research degrees in the discipline.

PRIZES IN SOCIOLOGY AND SOCIAL POLICY

UNDERGRADUATE PRIZES

THE ALAN DAVIS MEMORIAL PRIZE
This prize is awarded to the undergraduate student who has the best results in the junior sociology units SCLG1001 Introduction to Sociology I and SCLG1002 Introduction to Sociology II. The prize commemorates the contribution of Alan Davis, a former member of the Department. He was widely acknowledged to be an inspiring teacher – much loved by students – at both the undergraduate and postgraduate level. He carried his profound knowledge of the discipline lightly and with modesty. His passion for encouraging intellectual curiosity and learning is appropriately celebrated by this prize for first year students. He delighted in opening young minds to fresh questions by provoking students (in the gentlest possible way) with an uncertainty that moved them to seek deeper involvement and knowledge. Alan Davis made a vital contribution to the establishment of undergraduate Sociology at the University of Sydney.

BETTINA CASS PRIZE IN SOCIAL POLICY
This prize is awarded to the undergraduate student who has achieved the best results in SCPL2601 in Australian Social Policy.

Professor Bettina Cass AO was formerly Chair and Professor of Sociology and Social Policy and Dean of the Faculty of Arts at the University of Sydney. She is internationally renowned for her research and publications in the field of social policy. Professor Cass is a Fellow of the Academy of Social Sciences in Australia. She has worked extensively with state, national and international organisations and has been the Director of a number of large government inquiries and reviews that cover areas as diverse as family policies and family income support, social security, labour market policies, the housing needs of women and children, ageing, retirement incomes and disabilities. Her contributions to this field of research as well as her ongoing commitment to active engagement in policy reform was recognised with an Order of Australia for services to welfare policy. She is presently a Professorial Fellow at the Social Policy Research Centre at UNSW.

SOCIO-LEGAL STUDIES PRIZE
This prize is awarded to the student who achieves the highest marks in the two junior level core units in Socio-legal Studies, SLSS1001 Introduction to Socio-Legal Studies and SLSS1003 Law and Contemporary Society.
RAEWYN CONNELL PRIZE IN SOCIOLOGICAL THEORY
This prize is awarded to the student who achieves the highest marks in the core senior level sociology unit SCLG2601 Sociological Theory. Professor Raewyn Connell holds a University Chair at the University of Sydney. Professor Connell is a Fellow of Social Sciences in Australia, a recipient of the American Sociological Association’s award for distinguished contribution to the study of sex and gender, and of the Australian Sociological Association’s (ASA) award for distinguished service to sociology in Australia. She has published 21 books many of which have been translated into 13 languages. In the ASA list of the most influential books in Australian sociology Professor Connell has had 4 in the top 10.

QUALITATIVE METHODS PRIZE
This prize is awarded to the student who achieves the highest marks in the core senior level sociology unit SCLG2602 Social Inquiry Methods.

QUANTITATIVE METHODS PRIZE
This prize is awarded to the student who achieves the highest marks in the core senior level sociology unit SCLG3603: Quantitative Methods for Social Science. The Department always aims to strengthen students’ empirical research skills, and the introduction of quantitative methods unit is an important aspect of that aspiration.

PRIZES IN POLITICAL ECONOMY

POSTGRADUATE PRIZES

JO. MARTINS PRIZE IN POLITICAL ECONOMY
Is awarded annually to the person reaching the highest standard of excellence in studies for the degree of Master in Political Economy. The Postgraduate Prize in Political Economy was established in 2012 as a result of a donation by Jo Martins.

UNDERGRADUATE PRIZES

THE GEE LUM SIMPSON-LEE PRIZE
Is named in honour of the economist who was the elected Dean of the Faculty of Economics at the University of Sydney in the 1970s. He facilitated the introduction of the first Political Economy course at the University in 1975. The prize is awarded annually to the top student in the second semester of the introductory units of study in undergraduate Political Economy.

THE J.K. GALBRAITH PRIZE
Is named in honour of the distinguished Canadian institutional economist whose prolific writing, public presence and political influence inspired much interest in political economy. The prize is awarded annually to the top student in the intermediate undergraduate units of study in Political Economy.

THE PAUL M. SWEEZY PRIZE
Is named in honour of the distinguished American Marxist economist who created and edited the journal ‘Monthly Review’ and established Monthly Review Press. It is awarded annually to the top student in senior undergraduate units of study in Political Economy.

THE GUNNAR MYRDAL PRIZE
Is named in honour of the distinguished Swedish institutional economist who contributed, both in his writing and in his practical political activities, to the development of a humane approach to economic policies. It is awarded annually to the top student in the final year of study for the honours degree in Political Economy.
SIR HERMANN BLACK PRIZE
Is awarded for the best overall academic performance by a student in the unit of study Social Foundations of Modern Capitalism. This course of study observes economic activity from a historical perspective.

THE E.L. WHEELWRIGHT PRIZE
Is named in honour of Professor Ted Wheelwright who taught at the University from 1950s to 1980s. He was an inspiring teacher and contributed significantly to the establishment of the political economy courses. The prize is awarded annually to the top student in the introductory unit of study Economics as a Social Science.

MARY HENDERSON (GERSTLE) UNDERGRADUATE SCHOLARSHIP IN POLITICAL ECONOMY
The Mary Henderson (Gerstle) Undergraduate Scholarship in Political Economy was established in 2015 thanks to the generosity of Ms Mary Henderson. Sydney alumna Ms Henderson was a student in the Department of Political Economy in the early 1980s while developing a career in finance and social enterprise. Her scholarship reflects the political economy department’s commitment to justice and social change, and provides financial support for students majoring in political economy.

PRIZES IN GRADUATE SCHOOL OF GOVERNMENT

POSTGRADUATE PRIZES

THE GRADUATE SCHOOL OF GOVERNMENT PUBLIC SERVICE COMMISSION AWARD IN PUBLIC ADMINISTRATION

This is the Graduate School of Government’s highest award, made to a NSW public servant who has excelled academically throughout the GSG’s Graduate Diploma of Public Administration program. The winner of the award, as jointly assessed by the GSG and the NSW Public Service Commission, is funded to undertake international travel to research a nominated contemporary challenge of public administration in New South Wales. Previous winners have represented Transport NSW, NSW Ambulance Service, Services NSW, NSW Police, Family and Community Services and NSW Health. The generous support for this award by the Public Service Commission is gratefully acknowledged.
GRADUATE SCHOOL OF GOVERNMENT WORK BASED PROJECT PRIZE

The Work Based Project unit is the capstone of the Graduate School of Government’s degree courses in Public Administration. Students are required to undertake independent primary research to explore solutions to a current public administration challenge in their workplace in the NSW public sector, and to present the research in a written report and in an oral presentation. The prize is awarded to the student with the highest grade in these assignments.

INSTITUTE OF PUBLIC ADMINISTRATION AUSTRALIA, NSW FA BLAND PRIZE

This award honours Francis Armand Bland (1882-1967), pioneer NSW public administrator and graduate of the University of Sydney (BA 1909, LLB 1912 and MA 1914). Bland lectured in public administration at the University of Sydney from 1930, and in 1935 was appointed the first chair in public administration, inaugurating the University’s 80+ year tradition of teaching and research in this field. His teaching reflected his belief that universities ‘should aim to provide well-educated candidates rather than technically trained officials.’ Bland co-founded with G C Remington the Institute of Public Administration in NSW which generously supports this award.

PRIZEWINNERS

Clay Preshaw          Graduate School of Government Work Based Project Prize

Clay Preshaw          Institute of Public Administration Australia, NSW FA Bland Prize

Clay Preshaw          The Graduate School of Government Public Service Commission Award in Public Administration
PRIZES IN GOVERNMENT AND INTERNATIONAL RELATIONS

POSTGRADUATE PRIZES

CHRISTOPHER HOOD PRIZE FOR POSTGRADUATE COURSEWORK
Is awarded to the postgraduate coursework student who has the best results in a calendar year in the study of public policy, administration, and affairs. Professor Christopher Hood taught in the Department of Government and International Relations for some years in the 1990s before moving first to the London School of Economics and then to All Souls College at Oxford University. He remains a prolific and influential scholar and researcher.

HEDLEY BULL PRIZE FOR POSTGRADUATE COURSEWORK
Is awarded to the postgraduate coursework student with the best results in international politics in a calendar year provided the work is of sufficient merit. Professor Hedley Bull (1932-1985) was born in Burwood, NSW. He obtained a Bachelor of Arts from the University of Sydney, graduating in 1952. He completed both honours courses in four calendar years, gaining a first in Philosophy and a second in History. The most important influence on his thinking was John Anderson, Challis Professor of Philosophy: his iconoclasm, tough realism, devotion to teaching, and love of grappling with statements of a contrary position in their strongest form, all left their mark on him.

RN SPANN SCHOLARSHIP
Established in 1989 by a gift from various donors as a memorial to Professor Richard Neville Spann, Professor of Government and Public Administration from 1953 to 1981, to provide a postgraduate scholarship in the field of public policy and administration. The scholarship is awarded every second year primarily on the basis of academic merit and, in some circumstances, financial need may be taken into consideration.

TISH PROCTOR PRIZE FOR POSTGRADUATE COURSEWORK
Established in 2008 in memory of Tish Proctor, an honours graduate of the Department of Government and International Relations who was a major contributor to the Australian Federation of University Women - NSW. The prize is awarded to the most proficient woman student doing postgraduate coursework study in public policy, administration, and affairs in government.
Tish Proctor graduated from the University of Sydney with Honours in Government. She worked in banking and as a journalist for the ‘Australian Financial Review’, mothering three children. She became active in the Australian Federation of University Women where she was a creative and energetic leader, serving as the President elect of AFUW NSW. She dealt with adversity when her husband died unexpectedly and then she was diagnosed with cancer. She bore these trials with dignity and good humour until her premature death. Inspired by her example and to keep alive her memory, members of the Australian Federation of University Women (now Australian Federation of Graduate Women) established a bequest fund to support a prize in her honour in Government at the University of Sydney.

UNDERGRADUATE PRIZES

TISH PROCTOR MEMORIAL PRIZE FOR MOST PROFICIENT WOMAN STUDENT IN FIRST YEAR GOVERNMENT

Established in 1994 by a donation from the Australian Federation of University Women NSW Inc, in memory of their former State President, Tish Proctor. The prize is awarded annually on the recommendation of the Head of Department of Government and Public Administration to the most proficient woman student in First Year Government, provided that the student's work is of sufficient merit.

HEDLEY BULL PRIZE IN INTERNATIONAL POLITICS

Is awarded to the senior student with the best results in international politics in a calendar year, provided the work is of sufficient merit.

PUBLIC SERVICE ASSOCIATION OF NEW SOUTH WALES JOHN S. D’ARCY MEMORIAL PRIZES (4)

The four D’Arcy Prizes recognise outstanding achievement by second and third year students in Government in Pass and in Honours. John Synott D’Arcy (1867-1918) was born in 1867 and died at the age of 51, at the residence of his sister, Dr Constance D’Arcy, Park Road, Paddington. He was for a number of years secretary of the Navigation Department of New South Wales, and well-known in shipping and commercial circles. He was also the president of what is now the Community and Public Sector Union in 1907 and again 1915-1916. John S. D’Arcy joined the Public Instruction Department as a junior clerk in June, 1881, and was appointed secretary of the Navigation Department in 1910, making him the permanent head of the Department. He was one of the founders of the University Club, known today as the University and Schools Club on Phillip Street in the city, and was Chairman of the Board for more than ten years. He had a Bachelor of Arts from the University of Sydney and always listed it as a matter of pride. His premature death led his family, friends, and admirers to create the suite of D’Arcy Prizes.

MAYER PRIZE IN POLITICAL THEORY

Is awarded to a student who completes a piece of work with a major theoretical element to an exceptional standard. Emeritus Professor Henry Mayer (1919-1991), arrived in Australia in 1940 on the Dunera – a fact he never sought to exploit. He became a leading figure in the study of Australian politics and media, a public intellectual, a gadfly and enfant terrible of academia. He stood out as an undergraduate after the war at the University of Melbourne and joined the Department of Government and Public Administration at the University of Sydney in 1950. He was appointed Professor of Political Theory in 1970 and an Emeritus Professor in 1985. Thereafter he served as Visiting Professor of Sociology at the University of New South Wales and Visiting Professor in Mass Communication at Macquarie University.

STEPHEN SALSBURY PRIZE FOR THE RELATIONSHIP OF ECONOMICS TO POLITICS

Is awarded to the best senior student in Government studying the relations of government and economics, provided the work is of sufficient merit. Professor Stephen Salsbury was educated at Harvard University and served as Professor of Economic History at the University of Sydney from 1979 until his untimely death on the first day of the first semester in 1999. He served as Dean a number of times. A believer in the integration of political and economic analysis, he always supported the Department of Government and International Relations and its staff and students. His publications include: ‘Australia’s First Bank: Fifty Years from the Wales to Westpac’ (UNSW Press 1999), ‘The Bull, the Bear and the Kangaroo: the History of the Sydney Stock Exchange’ (Allen & Unwin 1988), and ‘Pierre S. Du Pont and the Making of the Modern Corporation’ (Harper & Row 1971). These works remain influential. He was a long term resident of Saint Andrews College at the University where his portrait adorns the main dining room.

TURNER PRIZE FOR FIRST YEAR GOVERNMENT

Is awarded for outstanding results in first year Government. Dr Ken Turner earned a Teachers’ College Scholarship in the mid 1940s gaining a BA and Dip. Ed from the University of Sydney. He taught in public high schools at Maitland and then Newtown. While at Newtown he enrolled in a Bachelor of Economics, followed by a Masters degree in Government. He began teaching in the Department of Government at that time, where he remained until retirement in 1987. He was the Department’s expert on Australian politics, which he taught repeatedly to huge classes of first year students. Ken’s focus was political parties and NSW

THE HELEN NELSON PRIZE FOR BEST IVTH YEAR HONOURS THESIS
The prize is awarded annually, provided there is a thesis of sufficient merit. It is for the thesis component of IVth Honours alone. There are no limitations as to subject matter of the thesis. Associate Professor Helen Nelson, a graduate of the University of Western Australia, joined the Department of Government and Public Administration in 1963 as a Research Assistant. She collaborated with Professor Henry Mayer on five editions of ‘Australian Politics: A Reader’, which became the standard textbook in Australian politics for a generation. In 1978, Helen was appointed as a lecturer. She was promoted to Associate Professor in 1991 and shortly thereafter became the first woman to take up the position of Head of Department, a position she held until 1995. She was the first woman to serve as Sub-Dean (Undergraduate Studies) in the Faculty of Economics, 1980-83. Helen’s long-term research interest lay in federalism.

THE MICHAEL W JACKSON PRIZE FOR STUDY IN GOVERNMENT
Is awarded to a Government honours graduate who achieved the university medal. Emeritus Professor Jackson joined the Department of Government and Public Administration (as it was) in 1974 and has continued there since. He has published three books on political theory, as well as nearly one hundred journal articles and essays. He received three awards for excellence in teaching at the University in 1988, 2005, and 2007, was the Director of the University’s Institute for Teaching and Learning, founding Chair of the Academic Board’s Undergraduate Studies Committee, and an inaugural member of the Australian Committee to Advance University Teaching. He also served as Head of and Chair of the Department of Government and International Relations.

HENRY S ALBINSKI PRIZE
Established in 2003 by donations from the family and friends of Henry S. Albinski. Professor Albinski pioneered Australian and New Zealand Studies in the US and overseas. In 1982 he founded the Australia-New Zealand Studies Center at Penn State University and held the position of Director there until his retirement in 1988. Professor Albinski was appointed Visiting Professor in Government and International Relations in 1999 and contributed to the research and teaching of the discipline until his death in 2003. The prize is awarded annually for the best undergraduate essay or thesis on Australian Foreign and Defence Policy or Australian-US Relations.
G.S CAIRD AWARD IN THIRD YEAR GOVERNMENT
The prize is awarded to the best student in Government at the third year level, if work is of sufficient merit, and the student is proceeding to Government Honours. George Sutherland Caird founded the mercantile firm of Caird, Peterson & Co. Caird was interested and active in fostering higher learning; in 1886 he donated 1000 to the University of Sydney for a scholarship in chemistry, and further benefactions were made in 1918 by his younger daughter and under her will in 1923.

EMERITUS PROFESSOR F.A. BLAND PRIZE FOR GOVERNMENT III
Is awarded annually to the best student completing a major in Government, provided that the work is of sufficient merit. The prize is named after Professor Francis Armand Bland who long served the Department of Government at the University of Sydney. Indeed he had much to do with creating the Department.

IPAA NSW GC REMINGTON AWARD
Established in 1968 by the N.S.W. Regional Group of the Royal Institute of Public Administration to endow a prize in the memory of Mr Geoffrey C. Remington, CMG, co-founder of the Institute in N.S.W. and Chairman of the Group Council for many years. Awarded on the recommendation of the Professor of Government and Public Administration to the student in any year most distinguished in the study of government, especially in its administrative aspects.

COMMONWEALTH BANK UNDERGRADUATE SCHOLARSHIP IN GOVERNMENT
This prize was established in 1951 by a gift from the Commonwealth Bank of Australia to provide scholarships annually to undergraduate students who demonstrate the greatest proficiency in the third-year honours courses in each of the Departments of Economics, Economic History, Industrial Relations and Government and Public Administration, and who proceed as full-time candidates to the final honours year in the same departments.
