

INTERNATIONAL JOURNAL OF DEVELOPMENT ISSUES

Vol. 1, No. 2

December 2002

Contents

Hans C. Blomqvist

The endogenous state and economic development: A survey

Jeffrey James

The digital divide between nations as international technological dualism

Samar Datta, Jeffrey Nugent and Jone-lin Wang

Intrahousehold sources of male-female differences in labour force participation: A new institutional approach

John Lodewijks

Economists and the Asian financial crisis: Methodological heterogeneity within orthodoxy

S. M. Shafaeddin

Some implications of accession to WTO for China's economy

ISSN 1446-8956

Editor

Dilip Dutta

Advisory Editors

Bina Agarwal

Subhash Bhatnagar

Hans Blomqvist

Srikanta Chatterjee

James Cypher

Amitava Dutt

Bernard Gerbier

Robin Ghosh

Joseph Halevi

John Harriss

A. Y. Hing

Jeffrey James

Raghbendra Jha

Raja Junankar

Liisa Laakso

Janet Landa

Justin Lin

Deepak Nayyar

Jeffrey Nugent

Adebayo Olukoshi

Gabriel Palma

James Petras

Ranjan Ray

Kartik Roy

Kunal Sengupta

Rehman Sobhan

Osvaldo Sunkel

Clem Tisdell

INTERNATIONAL JOURNAL OF DEVELOPMENT ISSUES

Vol. 1, No. 2

December 2002

CONTENTS

Hans C. Blomqvist

The endogenous state and economic development:
A survey 1

Jeffrey James

The digital divide between nations as international technological dualism 25

Samar Datta, Jeffrey Nugent and Jone-lin Wang

Intrahousehold sources of male-female differences in labor force participation: A new institutional approach 41

John Lodewijks

Economists and the Asian financial crisis:
Methodological heterogeneity within orthodoxy 75

S. M. Shafaeddin

Some implications of accession to WTO for China's economy 93

INTERNATIONAL JOURNAL OF DEVELOPMENT ISSUES

Aims and Scope of the IJDI

The International Journal of Development Issues is a peer-reviewed journal. The main objective of the IJDI is to publish research output on all important development issues with a focus on development dynamism and a bias for inter-disciplinary approach. In particular, Economics, Politics, History, Sociology, Anthropology, Ecology, Social Work, Commerce, Information Technology, Law and allied disciplines would receive special priorities.

The IJDI welcomes publication of papers that are empirically oriented, but with solid methodological foundation based on realism and pragmatism rather than on idealism. It encourages critical analysis of development issues not only from the heterodox viewpoints (such as neo- and post-structuralist, neo- and neo-institutionalist, etc.), but also from the neo-liberalist viewpoint in orthodox tradition. The IJDI is intended for being an international forum of exchanging viewpoints of a wide variety of perspectives and disciplines. It is expected that the IJDI would be a genuine guideline for socially appropriate policy prescriptions made by the development practitioners and policy makers in both developing and emerging market economies of Africa, Asia, Eastern Europe and Latin America.

Editorial Board

Editor

Dilip Dutta University of Sydney, Australia

Advisory Editors

Bina Agarwal Institute of Economic Growth, Delhi, India
Subhash Bhatnagar Indian Institute of Management, Ahmedabad, India
Hans Blomqvist Swedish School of Economics & Business Administration, Finland
Srikanta Chatterjee Massey University, New Zealand
James Cypher California State University Fresno, USA
Amitava Dutt University of Notre Dame, USA
Bernard Gerbier Universite Pierre Mendes France, Grenoble, France
Robin Ghosh University of Western Australia, Perth, Australia
Joseph Halevi University of Sydney, Australia
John Harriss London School of Economics, UK
A. Y. Hing National University of Singapore, Singapore
Jeffrey James Tilburg University, Netherlands
Raghubendra Jha Australian National University, Canberra, Australia
Raja Junankar University of Western Sydney, Macarthur, Australia
Liisa Laakso University of Helsinki, Finland
Janet Landa York University, Toronto, Canada
Justin Lin Peking University, Beijing, China
Deepak Nayyar University of Delhi, New Delhi, India
Jeffrey Nugent University of Southern California, USA
Adebayo Olukoshi CODESRIA, Dakar, Senegal
Gabriel Palma University of Cambridge, UK
James Petras Binghamton University, New York, USA
Ranjan Ray University of Tasmania, Hobart, Australia
Kartik Roy University of Queensland, Brisbane, Australia
Kunal Sengupta University of Sydney, Australia
Rehman Sobhan Centre for Policy Dialogue, Dhaka, Bangladesh
Osvaldo Sunkel University of Chile, Santiago, Chile
Clem Tisdell University of Queensland, Brisbane, Australia

NOTES TO CONTRIBUTORS FOR SUBMISSION OF MANUSCRIPTS

The International Journal of Development Issues is a peer-reviewed journal. Authors are invited to submit manuscripts that follow the basic objective of the IJDI as outlined under Aims and Scope of the *IJDI. A manuscript must contain original unpublished work and not being submitted for publication elsewhere.

Manuscripts (up to 8,000 words in length, including footnotes and references) must be in English, double-spaced and in triplicate. The first page of the manuscript should contain an abstract of no longer than 100 words and information on author's name, telephone number, postal and email addresses. Electronic mail submission is preferred and facsimile submission is not encouraged. It is expected that manuscripts accepted for publication will be submitted on computer disk (preferably on a 3.5 inch disk in MS-DOS format).

A decision on publication of manuscripts is expected to be made within a 3-4 months after its receipt by the Editor. There are no page charges for publication. Authors must have the understanding that once a manuscript is accepted for publication, the exclusive copyright in it shall go to the IJDI. The Editor neither accepts responsibility for damage or loss of manuscripts submitted, nor returns the submitted manuscripts to the authors.

All manuscripts should be directed to the following address:

The Editor, International Journal of Development Issues

School of Economics and Political Science

Merewether Building H04

The University of Sydney

NSW: 2006, Australia

Tel: +61 2 9351 3062

Fax: +61 2 9351 4341

Email: dilipd@econ.usyd.edu.au

SUBSCRIPTIONS

The International Journal of Development Issues is published twice a year. Subscription rates are as follows:

Individuals:	A$20 per copy, A$30 per year (for developed countries) A$10 per copy, A$15 per year (for other countries)
Institutions:	A$40 per copy, A$60 per year (for developed countries) A$20 per copy, A$30 per year (for other countries)

Subscriptions are accepted on a prepaid basis only and are entered on a calendar year basis. Journal copies are sent by surface mail. Air mail rates are available upon request.