MEET OUR STUDENTS
Our community includes 51,000 undergraduate and postgraduate students. The Careers Centre can offer employers many different ways to raise your company profile among these students and our 270,000 alumni worldwide.

CAREERS FAIRS 2014
Attending a careers fair is an ideal way for you to meet and connect with a large group of potential employees and is beneficial for both small- and large-scale organisations.

We promote your engagement with the University of Sydney to students and academics online and via broad and targeted communication channels. This provides your organisation with meaningful exposure over an entire calendar year and helps to create an enduring talent pipeline.

Online advertising
Not attending an on-campus event? Place your logo with a hotlink on the student graduate recruitment webpage until December 2014. This service is included in your careers fair or information session package.

EXCLUSIVE NETWORKING
You can engage with future talent by holding an information session on campus. Students who attend individual company presentations are highly motivated and the session provides an excellent opportunity to network with these students while providing detailed information about your company.

Your presence on campus is advertised on the Careers Centre website and through a variety of other targeted communication channels including social media.

Evening employer networking events
Evening networking sessions attract organisations who want to host a formal presentation to students and incorporate a business networking event into their recruitment strategy.

For these events, we coordinate venue hire, catering, and wait staff, while providing an enhanced strategic marketing service tailored to your organisation’s recruitment objectives.

Please contact our Industry Development Team for more information on session availability and marketing.
