

"Getting involved: student volunteers helping out during recent application round to the BOH course".

Student volunteers are a feature of the MMI interviews for applicants to the BOH program. They greet and guide applicants between the interview stations, and help keep the process on time. These community service roles are an integral part of the course which treats its students as developing professionals from the time they enter.
