

2013 PROFESSIONAL LEARNING

PROFESSIONAL PRACTICE SUPERVISION

WEDNESDAY 22 & WEDNESDAY 29 MAY 2013
TWO-DAY WORKSHOP SERIES

PRESENTER

ROSLYN GILES has been a social worker for over thirty years and a social work educator for more than twenty years. Until recently she was Director of Field Education at the University of Sydney. This role brought together her extensive experiences as a social work practitioner, manager, field education supervisor and tertiary educator. She is interested in how adult learners continuously combine their life experiences with formal processes of learning in striving to be just and ethical human service practitioners.

Fees & registration $385 per person (GST inclusive). Includes 2-day workshop and morning tea & lunch each day.

Professional Learning

Faculty of Education & Social Work

Building A35 - Room 711

The University of Sydney NSW 2006

At the completion of this two-day workshop participants will be able to:

1. Demonstrate a knowledge of theoretical approaches to professional practice supervision of staff;
2. Identify and develop supervision processes that are critical to the enhancement of professional practice and the appropriate strategies and skills to implement them;
3. Critique the relevance of these approaches in a range of practice settings;
4. Identify and analyse key features of an organisational environment in which supervision plays a positive role and demonstrate the skills to do this;
5. Analyse issues that may arise in the supervision process and identify appropriate strategies to address these (for example the influence of power on the relationship between supervisor and supervisee, structural inequalities such as race, gender, age).
