The TESOL Research Network in the Faculty of Education and Social Work at the University of Sydney is hosting the 3rd University of Sydney TESOL Research Network Colloquium 2008. The Colloquium will be held at the Faculty of Education and Social Work on September 20, 2008.

The University of Sydney TESOL Research Network Colloquium aims to provide a forum to discuss and share research in the area of TESOL as well as explore possible future research collaborations in this area. The Colloquium aims to be a place for networking, for established and new TESOL researchers.

The Colloquium will include presentation sessions on a wide range of TESOL and TESOL-related research both in progress and completed. It will also include a networking session for people working in the area of TESOL research. The aim of this is to provide the opportunity for established and new TESOL researchers to talk to each other about their research and to explore possible future research collaborations.

The Colloquium will include two presentations by two key note speakers and 25-minute paper presentations (20 minutes presentation; 5 minutes discussion). Presenters will include TESOL staff and students from the University of Sydney, scholars, researchers and students from other universities in the State of New South Wales, such as UTS, Macquarie University and University of New South Wales.

For more information please email Dr Aek Phakiti: a.phakiti@edfac.usyd.edu.au