

Audinate was founded in 2006 after more than 3 years of intensive research and development by the company's founders, all leading computer networking experts, to find a solution to the problem of transporting high quality audio and media over standard multi-use TCP/IP computer networks.

We are seeking an IT/Computer Science student to support us in our activities, who is available to work approximately 4 hours a week to maintain web-based information.

Required skills: linux/unix, php, apache, mysql

This person could work remotely, or could work in our office.

Enquiries and expressions of interest can be directed to Aidan Williams, Chief Technology Officer: Aidan.Williams@audinate.com
