The objective of the Scholarship is to facilitate a recipient's structured learning in civil engineering and to provide them with practical industry experience to advance their growth as an engineering practitioner.

To be eligible, applicants must:

- be an Australian citizen who are recent school leavers and also identify as Aboriginal or Torres Strait Islander,
- qualify and enrol into an undergraduate civil engineering program at the University of Sydney,
- commence in Semester One 2017, and
- Australian citizens from rural EAS schools who are recent school leavers may also apply, but priority will be given to Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander applicants.

Combined degree students are not eligible.

Selection criteria

In addition to academic ability, applicants are selected based on their interpersonal skills, leadership qualities, communication skills, creativity, self-motivation and achievements in non-academic pursuits and involvement in both school and community activities. To demonstrate this, applicants are required to complete an online form addressing these skills.

You will need to:

- Address each of the above skills separately on our online. You have 150 words for each skill as outlined above, and
- Input and provide a copy of your year 11 and 12 school reports and attach a current CV to your application.

The Scholarship will be awarded by the Director of the Faculty of Engineering and Information Technologies Leadership Program and the Faculty Associate Dean (Education), or their delegate. Staff from Bouygues Construction Australia may also be present at the interview and have access to the shortlisted applications as the Scholarship donor.

Payments shall be made in equal instalments after the census dates of each semester, subject to satisfactory academic performance deemed to be a minimum of credit average (65%) or above each semester. Scholars shall not hold any other primary scholarship simultaneously. Deferment of the Scholarship is also not permitted. Students must also be available and commit to the compulsory practical experience placements that form part of this Scholarship.

Please refer to the terms and conditions of this Scholarship for a full list of the conditions that apply.

Helpful tips

- Draft your responses before completing them in the online form.
- Proof-read and check the spelling of your responses before you submit the application.
