EIE Summer Research Project Scholarship
Terms and Conditions
(11366)

The EIE Summer Research Project Scholarship is available to students enrolled in the Bachelor of Engineering and Master Professional Engineering programs at the University of Sydney, with a weighted average mark (WAM) of 75 or more, who are interested in undertaking research projects with the School of Electrical and Information Engineering (EIE) during the summer break of their studies.

Applicants must be currently enrolled as full-time students at the University with at least 12 credit points remaining to complete to be eligible to apply.

Students enrolled in the Bachelor of Engineering must have successfully completed at least 120 credit points in their course prior to the commencement of the scholarship, and be enrolled in ELEC4702.

Students enrolled in the Master of Professional Engineering must have successfully completed 24 credit points in their first semester of enrolment at the time of scholarship application. Students must be pre-enrolled in ENGG5217 and complete 48 credit points over their 1st year maintaining the WAM of 75%. If successful, the scholarship will be conditional on 2nd semester progress for MPE applicants.

Applicants will be selected on the basis of academic merit, demonstrated knowledge and interest in the research project topics.

The scholarship is valued at $3,500 over a period of 10 weeks during the summer vacation break. The scholarship will be paid in 2 instalments of $1,750.00, with the first instalment being paid on commencement and the final payment being made two weeks before project completion, subject to academic progress being deemed satisfactory by the project supervisor.

The completion date will depend on individual agreements between the students and their supervisor(s) regarding Christmas and New Year holidays, and would not to be extended beyond the start of Semester 1 of the following year (i.e. work of the 2014/2015 EIE Summer Research Project Scholarships would not go beyond 28 February 2015).
