

2011 Program

The 2011 program of Continuing Professional Education in Stuttering (CPES) is conducted for speech pathologists. The program has been running since 1997 and has proved popular with clinicians within Australia and internationally. Events are conducted by researchers and clinicians with extensive experience in the field of stuttering. CPES is run by the Australian Stuttering Research Centre at The University of Sydney (ASRC), the Stuttering Unit at Bankstown Health Service, and the Department of Linguistics at Macquarie University. Events include workshops, teleconferences, seminars, and clinic observation days. Members of the CPES team may also provide presentations to other groups, such as preschool teachers, on request. All events involve a registration fee. Interested attendees are advised to contact the CPES Coordinator, Jane Kelly on 0413 171 026, or email jane.kelly@sydney.edu.au.
