

ROSALIE McCUTCHEON SCHOLARSHIP

Mrs Rosalie McCutcheon was the Resident Deputy Director of International House for the critical first five years of International House. In this role Mrs Mac (as she was affectionately known) devoted herself to the well-being of all residents. On her death in February 1992, Mrs Mac's commitment to International House and its ideals was affirmed by the bequest of the bulk of her small estate to the International House Alumni Association (SUIHAA). This bequest subsequently became the Rosalie McCutcheon Scholarship Fund.

Eligibility

The Rosalie McCutcheon Scholarship is open to all current International House residents enrolled in a course at the University of Sydney. The scholarship is to assist a resident to attend a conference/seminar/workshop in their area of study or on international issues.

Details

Two scholarships may be awarded during the course of the academic year and will be available for 12 months from the date the award is made. Each scholarship is valued up to AUD$500 and must be used for registration, travel or accommodation.

The date of scholarship payment will be determined by mutual agreement between the selection committee and the recipient, but generally the scholarship money will be paid when proof of registration is made available.

Recipients of the scholarship are required to write a report 'on the experience and benefit gained' for the SUIHAA newsletter.

Applications close on April and August each year.

Notes

The selection committee reserves the right to withdraw the scholarship from a recipient who is no longer deemed appropriate for the award.
