

Part Time Researcher- Legal Headhunting Firm - Sydney CBD

First Counsel is an international legal recruitment firm which assists Australian and New Zealand lawyers who wish to progress their career in quality law firms at home or around the world. With offices in Sydney and London, we have a particular focus on legal recruitment in Australia, United Kingdom, Asia and the Middle East. Our clients include 'Magic Circle' and 'Silver Circle' firms, US firms, plus quality mid-tier and boutique law firms.

We are seeking a part time researcher to assist in sourcing lawyers for potential opportunities globally.

You will have a background and interest in the law. Most importantly, you will be a confident and mature individual with a friendly and approachable manner who is comfortable making approach calls on the telephone and developing relationships with potential candidates.

This opportunity is for the equivalent of 3 working days, which can be worked as shortened hours over 4 or 5 days. Package on offer includes a competitive base salary and commission.

To discuss the opportunity in more detail, please email Catherine McMillan at First Counsel on Catherine.McMillan@firstcounsel.com
