ABOUT THE SERIES

The Australian Centre for Climate and Environmental Law (ACCEL) presents its annual seminar series covering key areas in climate and environmental law.

In these seminars, ACCEL members will share their expertise in the various areas of environmental law, including climate change, environmental impact assessment, biodiversity and water.

The series of seven seminars is intended to provide an overview of recent developments, allowing participants to stay up to date in this rapidly changing field.

ACCEL's annual seminar series appeals to a wide audience, and no formal qualifications or assumed knowledge are required for enrolment.

Participants who attend a minimum of five (5) seminars in the series will be issued with a certificate of attendance.
