

Australian Indigenous Mentoring Experience (AIME)

Opportunity for Sydney Law School students to volunteer to mentor Indigenous High School Students

A lot of YOUR Uni life will be spent searching for something real to cling onto, something you can look back upon proudly when you are your parents' age...

My name is Ben Howard and I'm the Sydney City Program Manager for AIME (Australian Indigenous Mentoring Experience) writing to offer you ALL the opportunity to be a part of a mentoring program where YOU CAN make a real difference in the lives of young Indigenous Australians.

WELCOME to one of the greatest modern day movements that this country has ever seen – closing the gap between Indigenous and Non-Indigenous Australians educational outcomes.

Over the last five years AIME has taken volunteer University students from diverse cultural backgrounds and given them the opportunity to mentor local Indigenous High School students.

It is a program that has had some remarkable results, such as a 40% increase in attendance at School during mentoring.

Here's just a few great things our volunteer Uni Mentors have got out of AIME's Mentoring experience:

- > Improved their leadership and presentation skills;
- > Learnt about Australian Indigenous culture & peoples;
- > Made lifelong friendships with peer Uni students;
- > Gained valuable experience working with young people;

For a sneak peak of AIME sessions in ACTION check out: AIME Mentee Film 2010

To become an AIME Mentor or for more information simply email me at bho@aimementoring.com with your name and Degree!

Phone: 0420 319 006 or visit our website: <http://www.aimementoring.com>

Join AIME on the AIME Facebook Fan Page