

We have the maps but can we follow the tracks? Our journey to being the healthiest country by 2020

Please join us on Tuesday 28 April to hear a range of expert perspectives on what needs to be done to bring about the recommendations of the following reports:

Australia: the healthiest country by 2020

Prepared by the National Preventative Health Taskforce

Closing the gap in a generation: Health equity through action on the social determinants of health

Final Report of the Commission on Social Determinants of Health, World Health Organization (WHO)

Guest speakers:

Mike Daube, Professor of Health Policy and Director, Public Health Advocacy Institute of WA at Curtin University of Technology; Deputy Chair of the Preventative Health Taskforce, and President of the Public Health Association of Australia (PHAA).

Fran Baum, Professor of Public Health and Director, Southgate Institute for Health, Society and Equity & South Australian Community Health Research Unit at Flinders University; commissioner on the WHO's Commission on Social Determinants of Health.

John Catford, Dean of the Faculty of Health, Medicine, Nursing and Behavioural Sciences, and Professor of Health Development at Deakin University, will respond to and comment on the keynote presentations.

Professors Daube, Baum and Catford will then take questions from the audience with Dr Tony Hobbs, Chair, National Primary Health Care Strategy External Reference Group; and the Honourable Dr Geoff Gallop, Commissioner, National Health and Hospitals Reform Commission
