

Evolutionary Psychology/ Psychiatry Workshop

An Invitation

DATE: Monday, 16 February 2009

AGENDA: 2.00pm Conversations in Evolutionary Psychology & Psychiatry

Presented by Professor Randolph Nesse
Professor in Psychiatry & Professor in Psychology,
University of Michigan, Ann Arbor, USA

3.30 pm Afternoon Tea

4-5.00pm Discussion

CHAIR: Dr Gary Galambos, Medical Director

VENUE: The Education Centre, St John of God Hospital
13 Grantham Street, Burwood

PARKING: Behind the Medical Centre, 3 Grantham Street, Burwood

RSVP: Wednesday, 11 February, 2009
(Fax Back—enclosed or Phone 02 9715 9212)

SPONSOR: CSL BIOTHERAPIES

About the Presenter

Randolph M. Nesse*, M.D., is Professor of Psychiatry and Professor of Psychology at the University of Michigan, where he directs the Evolution and Human Adaptation Program. His early work on the neuroendocrinology of anxiety and the origins of senescence led to a deep commitment to evolutionary biology. Nesse collaborated with George Williams on several early works in Darwinian medicine, including "The dawn of Darwinian medicine" (1991) and the accessible book Why We Get Sick: The New Science of Darwinian Medicine (1995). More recently he edited Evolution and the Capacity for Commitment (2001) about how gene-culture co-evolution shapes capacities for moral commitment.

RSVP FAX BACK - (02) 9747 1349

Evolutionary Psychology / Psychiatry Workshop

DATE: Monday, 16 February, 2009

TIME: 2.00pm - 5.00 pm

VENUE: St John of God Hospital
13 Grantham Street, Burwood

- Yes I will attend
- I require a vegetarian meal
- No I cannot attend, but please keep me informed of all future seminars at St John of God Health Care
- Please remove my name from the database as I am not interested in attending any seminars

Name: _____

Address: _____

Phone: _____

Email: _____

ST JOHN OF GOD BURWOOD
HOSPITAL

Please fax to (02) 9747 1349
by Wednesday 11 February 2009