2010

A series of studies and reviews have explored various aspects of mental health and wellbeing in young people. For instance, Burns, Davenport, T., Luscombe, G., Moore, M., Griffiths, K., Christensen, H. (2010) investigated the feasibility of conducting a cluster randomised trial. They found that the protocol for a randomised controlled trial investigating the effectiveness of an online e-health application compared to attention placebo or sertraline in the treatment of generalised anxiety disorder was feasible. The trial was published in the Medical Journal of Australia, 192(11 Suppl), S31-S35. [More Information]»
