Directions Sydney Health Ethics

Sydney Health Ethics is located in the Medical Foundation Building, which is just off the main campus, at:
Level 1, 92-94 Parramatta Road,
Camperdown.

Getting here

By bus
The closest bus stop to the Medical Foundation Building is located virtually directly opposite just before the BP Service Station on the corner of Missenden Road and Parramatta Road. Buses from the city or Central Station (Railway Square Nos. 435, 436, 437, 438, 440, 461, M10) running along Parramatta Road and stopping at Missenden Road are recommended.

By car or taxi
The closest major cross street is Missenden Road. The Medical Foundation Building is located between Barr Street and Larkin Street, Barr Street being the first street on the left heading towards the city after Missenden Road. Parking is limited in the back streets, and Missenden Road has some four hour parking spots.

Locating Sydney Health Ethics Office
The Medical Foundation Building is comprised of two separate buildings joined by a walkway. Sydney Health Ethics (SHE) is located on level 1 in the Tavern Building, which is the first building you encounter as you begin to walk through the covered walkway from Parramatta Road.

If you have walked through the covered walkway and encountered a very large open courtyard with the main Medical Foundation Building ahead of you, you have gone too far! Retrace your steps back through the covered walkway to the pavement of Parramatta Road. You will find a glass doorway on your right which is open Monday to Friday from 8:00AM to 5:00PM. If you need access outside of these hours please press the buzzer marked L1 SHE. Press the bell and once you have been buzzed in come up to the first floor.

Step 2 – if you should become lost.
Please phone us here at the Centre on 9036 3405 and we will set you in the right direction. If you have reached the main building of the Medical Foundation, the friendly building attendant in the foyer will point you in the right direction for our office.
We are on the first floor of this building
