CALL FOR RESEARCH PROPOSALS

IN SUPPORT OF FIRST AID-RELATED RESEARCH IN AUSTRALIA, THE NATIONAL BOARD OF ST JOHN AMBULANCE AUSTRALIA IS PLEASED TO OFFER A SCHOLARSHIP OF UP TO AUS$16,000 IN 2017.

In September 2016, St John's Medical Advisory Panel (MAP) reviewed ‘knowledge gaps’ — elements of first aid where more research is required. These 'knowledge gaps' were identified by the International Liaison Committee on Resuscitation (ILCOR) in ‘2015 International consensus on cardiopulmonary resuscitation and emergency cardiovascular science with treatment recommendations’.

MAP identified 20 subjects under three main areas most relevant to the interests of St John Ambulance and first aid practices—research applications are being encouraged within these areas.

1. Adult basic life support
2. Education, implementation and teams
3. First aid.

To obtain a list of possible research projects, download here.

WHO CAN APPLY?
All St John members and staff are invited to apply.
University Honours students undertaking first aid-related research in 2017.

HOW CAN I GET ONE?
Complete the online application form, available here.

SUBMISSION
Applications must be submitted by email by Thursday 1 June 2017.
Submissions should be emailed to publications@stjohn.org.au

FOR FURTHER DETAILS, CONTACT:
Gabrielle Lhuede
Human Research Ethics Committee, Secretariat
E publications@stjohn.org.au
T 02 6239 9209