The Campbell Perry International Research scholarship has been established to support research-related international travel by PhD students conducting research that will contribute to the development of psychological knowledge.

<table>
<thead>
<tr>
<th>Scholarship value and duration</th>
</tr>
</thead>
<tbody>
<tr>
<td>Up to $6,000</td>
</tr>
</tbody>
</table>

Eligibility criteria

- Open to students enrolled at the University in a PhD in the School of Psychology, though in exceptional circumstances, the University may give consideration to students enrolled in a PhD in the School of Philosophy or the History and Philosophy of Science Unit; and

- in their second year of full-time study and have initiated research approved by the relevant School committee (in exceptional circumstances the University may give consideration to students in their first year of full-time study whose research has been approved by the relevant School committee or to students in their third year of full-time study); and

- supported by an Australian Postgraduate Award (now Research Training Program scheme) or such other postgraduate award considered by the University to be equivalent;

For more information

Student Administration Services
T 1800 SYD UNI (1800 793 864)
T +61 2 8627 1444 (outside Australia)
E scholarship.applications@sydney.edu.au

Background

Established in 2005 from donations by Mrs Jean Swirles to honor the memory of distinguished Emeritus Professor Campbell Perry (formerly of Concordia University, Montreal, Canada) who was awarded a Bachelor of Arts degree with First Class Honours in 1960 and a Doctor of Philosophy in Psychology in 1966 by the University of Sydney.

The purpose of the Scholarship is to enable students to:

- travel to another country to visit one or more international scholars who are conducting research relevant to the PhD project being undertaken by the student, though the Scholarship cannot be used to visit another University in Australia, and cannot be used to visit a University in the student’s country of residence if the student is an international student;

- spend a minimum of two weeks and a maximum of eight weeks visiting any one individual scholar;

- attend and present at international conferences as part of an approved international visit, though the Scholarship cannot be used for the sole purpose of attendance at one or more conferences.

Selection criteria

The criteria for the award of the scholarship shall include:

- by a committee composed of the Head of the School of Psychology, a minimum of two other academic staff from that School or other Schools in which applying students may be undertaking their PhD, and a nominee of Mrs Swirles;

- on the basis of the students’ progress in their PhD, the potential of the proposed travel to contribute to the students’ research and academic development, and the feasibility of achieving the proposed goals.

Payment schedule

- A single payment will be made after census date.