University of Sydney Business School
Master of Management Scholarship

The University of Sydney Business School Master of Management Scholarship promotes academic excellence in pre-experience Management education.

Scholarship value and duration
The scholarship pays half the cost of tuition fees and is tenable for the normal duration of either the Master of Management or Master of Management (CEMS).

Scholarship holders will be required to pay other costs associated with enrolment (e.g. student administration fees).

Up to four scholarships are offered each year and two scholarship may be offered in semester one and two scholarships offered to students admitted in semester two.

Eligibility criteria
- Open to local students who successfully gain entry into the Master of Management or the Master of Management (CEMS).
- Applicants will undertake continuous full-time or part-time study with the University of Sydney Business School from the semester for which they sought entry.
- There is no separate application process for this scholarship. Once interviews for entry into the degree are completed, the admissions committee submits a short list and recommendations to the School’s Executive Committee. A subcommittee may seek further information from short-listed candidates to help it make its decision.
- The scholarship must be taken up in the semester in which it is offered. That is, scholarship holders are not able to defer or suspend their enrolment in the degree.

Background
The scholarship was established in 2009 as part of the introduction of the Master of Management, a degree designed specifically for high performing students who have recently finished an undergraduate degree in any discipline. The Masters combines leading edge business and management content with high levels of corporate engagement. (See next page for more information.)

Selection criteria
- Applicants are assessed on academic achievement, motivation to achieve, international orientation and personal integrity.
- Applicant performance against the criteria is assessed by an Admissions Committee. As part of the admissions process all applicants are interviewed by the committee.

Ongoing eligibility
- Recipients must achieve a minimum 70 Credit average each semester. If the holder is undertaking units of study abroad as part of the CEMS program they will be expected to achieve ‘R’ Grade (Meeting Requirements) in the exchange semester.
- Scholarship holders will be invited to promote the Master of Management or Master of Management (CEMS) coursework and represent the Business School at student orientation, marketing events and corporate networking events.

Payment schedule
- The University of Sydney will pay the 50% of the student’s tuition fees.

Termination
- In the event that the scholarship holder changes degree or discontinues study, the scholarship will lapse.
- The scholarship may be terminated if the holder accepts other scholarship funding specifically awarded to assist with the student’s tuition fees.
Background cont.

- The Master of Management is part of the CEMS Masters in International Management (CEMS MIM) program. CEMS is a strategic alliance of leading international business schools and multinational companies.

- The University of Sydney Business School became a full member of CEMS in 2008 and is the only Australian business school in the network.
