Faculty of Health Sciences
Student Leadership Award

The Faculty of Health Sciences Student Leadership Award supports undergraduate or postgraduate (coursework or research) students who have demonstrated sustained, outstanding leadership during the period of their enrolment in the Faculty of Health Science.

Scholarship value and duration
Each successful student or student team will receive a certificate and $1,000.

Eligibility criteria
− Students or student teams may nominate themselves or be nominated by a peer or academic staff member.
− Nominees must demonstrate sustained outstanding leadership in one of the following categories:
  o student leadership in The University of Sydney
  o student leadership in the Faculty of Health Sciences
  o student leadership in their Discipline or profession
  o student leadership on a health related community issue.

Background
The Faculty of Health Sciences Student Leadership Award recognises undergraduate or postgraduate (coursework or research) students who have demonstrated sustained, outstanding leadership during the period of their enrolment in the Faculty of Health Science.
Up to 2 awards will be made.

Selection criteria
Nominations must have maintained satisfactory academic progression during the leadership period address the following criteria:
− Description of the leadership activities undertaken by the nominee(s) o (for team applications, a brief explanation of the role of each group member will need to be provided) including a brief Curriculum Vitae (CV) no more than 2 pages for each member.
− Evidence of the impact and outcome of their leadership
− Description of the nominees approach to leadership
− Evidence of inclusive leadership practices
− Evidence of succession and sustainability planning.

Ongoing eligibility
− Successful awardees must be willing to be profiled in Faculty and University publications and websites and to share their experiences with current students and staff.
− Awardees will be invited to address future student groups and engage in alumni activities.

Payment schedule
− The Award will be formally presented at the faculty’s annual awards and scholarship ceremony.

For more information
Student Administration Services
T 1800 SYD UNI (1800 793 864)
T +61 2 8627 1444 (outside Australia)
E scholarship.applications@sydney.edu.au
Faculty of Health Sciences Student Leadership Award

Terms and Conditions

The Faculty of Health Sciences Student Leadership Award recognises undergraduate or postgraduate (coursework or research) students who have demonstrated sustained, outstanding leadership in one of the following categories during the period of their enrolment in the Faculty of Health Science. Awards may be made to individuals or teams of students:

1. Student leadership in The University of Sydney
2. Student leadership in the Faculty of Health Sciences
3. Student leadership in their Discipline or profession
4. Student leadership on a health related community issue

Criteria

The nominee will have engaged in leadership activities that further the goals and values of The University of Sydney, while enrolled as a student at the Faculty of Health Sciences and have maintained satisfactory academic progression during the leadership period.

Students or student teams may nominate themselves or be nominated by a peer or academic staff member.

Nominations must address the following criteria.

1. Description of the leadership activities undertaken by the nominee(s)
2. Description of the nominees. Evidence of inclusive leadership practices

The Award will be formally presented at the Faculty’s annual awards and scholarship ceremony in the following year.

Nominations will be judged by a specifically convened panel consisting of 2 nominated faculty academic staff members, one invited academic staff member from outside the faculty and two student representatives from the FHS Student Staff Consultative Committee. The panel will be chaired by the A/Dean Learning and Teaching.

The Award

Each successful student or student team will receive a certificate and $1,000. Awardees will be invited to address future student groups and engage in alumni activities. Successful awardees must be willing to be profiled in Faculty and University publications and websites and to share their experiences with current students and staff.