Background

Established from a generous donation from IAG in honour of James Strong, the scholarship titled the James Strong IAG Scholarship for Business is offering support to talented students studying an undergraduate degree on a full time basis, at the University of Sydney Business School.

Selection criteria

- To be eligible for the award you must have applied for and been accepted into an undergraduate degree at the University of Sydney Business School.
- Applicants are required to complete and submit the University Merit Scholarship application form, which closes in late September at the Central Scholarships Office.
- Shortlisted applicants may be invited to attend an interview with the selection committee.

Ongoing eligibility

- The scholarship must be taken up in the semester in which it is offered.
- The scholarship recipient must be enrolled in the agreed degree program and must undertake a full time study load of 24 credit points each semester. If extenuating circumstances arise, the scholarship recipient may submit a request to decrease their study load to 18 credit points per semester but only with the permission of the Business School. The duration of the scholarship will not be extended if permission is obtained.
- The scholarship recipient must maintain a continuous enrolment and may not defer or suspend their enrolment in the degree. No leave of absence is allowed, except under exceptional circumstances such as a medical condition which limits the student's capacity to undertake study. In the event that the scholarship recipient discontinues study, or transfers to another program, the scholarship is no longer tenable.
- The scholarship recipient must maintain a minimum distinction average of 75% each semester. The award is conditional on the scholarship recipient meeting all regulations of the coursework program.

Payment schedule

- Payments will be made in two equal instalments following the census date (March 31st and August 31st) each semester.
