The Curtin PhD scholarship for clinical research

The Curtin PhD Scholarship for Clinical Research was established for graduates to undertake a PhD through Sydney Medical School, with a focus on clinical research relevant to Indigenous or rural health.

Scholarship value and duration

$50,000 tenable for one year

Eligibility criteria

- Applicants must be enrolled for a postgraduate research doctorate (PhD) degree in Sydney Medical School
- Be an Australian or New Zealand citizen or an Australian permanent resident as at the application closing date, and
- Undertake a PhD involving clinical research.

For more information

Student Administration Services
T 1800 SYD UNI (1800 793 864)
T +61 2 8627 1444 (outside Australia)
E scholarships.applications@sydney.edu.au

Background

Established in 2015 by a generous donation from Dr Austin M Curtin to establish and award scholarships and additional research project grants to medical graduates undertaking a PhD involving clinical research at the University of Sydney through Sydney Medical School.

Selection criteria

- Preference will be given to applicants whose research is focused on indigenous health and/or rural health, and
- Preference will be given to applicants undertaking clinical work and research at Lismore Base Hospital and/or the University Centre for Rural Health.

Payment schedule

- Payment will be made after the census date in each semester.