P1300	Mary Vallas (Vasseleu) Prize	1
-------	------------------------------	---

Mary Vallas was born in Sydney (1930), and was the first person of Greek descent to graduate from the School of Physiotherapy at The University of Sydney in 1952. She practised as a physiotherapist under her married name of Mary Vasseleu. For many years she worked at Concord Repatriation General Hospital, specialising in cardiopulmonary Physiotherapy.

The prize was established in 2007 by a donation from Cathryn and Jennifer Vallas Vasseleu, daughters of Mary Vallas (Vasseleu), in loving memory of their mother, whose pride in her physiotherapy profession and her dedication to the people in her care was a great inspiration to all who knew her.

The prize is awarded annually to a final year student in the Masters of Physiotherapy program, on the basis of the highest marks in cardiopulmonary academic and clinical units of study.
