How to Apply

Applying for a USYD-CSC Postgraduate Research Visiting Scholarship is a three-stage process. Applicants must complete all three stages, as follows:

(1) Application for a CSC-USYD Postgraduate Research Visiting Scholarship
(2) Application for China Scholarship Council support
(3) Application for admission to a Visiting Researcher Program (VRP) course at the University of Sydney

Stage 1: Application for a USYD-CSC Postgraduate Research Visiting Scholarship

Applicant will submit an application through the application portal. Application requires contact details of the head of the proposed host Department or School or academic at the University of Sydney. Applicant also needs to upload their research proposal to the application portal.

The University will assess the applications and if successful, the University will issue a letter of invitation. Applicant must also receive CSC scholarship for the same period in order to attend research at the University of Sydney.

An application does not guarantee a place at the University of Sydney as a student in the Visiting Postgraduate Research Program – applications are competitive, and will be considered based on each applicant’s academic merit and the priorities of each faculty or school. A total of 15 successful applicants will receive a letter offering the USYD-CSC Postgraduate Research Visiting Scholarship in March. The awarding of a USYD-CSC Postgraduate Research Visiting Scholarship will be contingent upon the applicant also receiving support from the China Scholarship Council for living costs.

Stage 2: Application to the China Scholarship Council

Candidates must have the support of the China Scholarship Council (CSC) for living costs.

1. Complete a CSC Application Form and the necessary Employer Reference Form(s). These forms can be obtained from the China Scholarship Council: http://www.csc.edu.cn/

2. Submit your CSC Application Form, a copy of letter of offer for the Tuition Fee Scholarship

Refer to The China Scholarship Council’s website for the application deadline

Stage 3: Application for admission to a Visiting Researcher Program (VRP) course at the University of Sydney

1. Successful scholarship recipients of the CSC Visiting PhD scholarship, need to send an email with their scholarship letter to sydneyabroad.vrp@sydney.edu.au

2. The Sydney Global Mobility (SGM) team will email the students a link to the application form for the Visiting Researcher Program (VRP) course.

Applicant should prepare the following documents prior to being given access to the online application form, to facilitate a smooth application process:

a. Copy of photo page of passport
b. Evidence of English language proficiency as noted in Section 2 of the Postgraduate Research tab of the University’s English requirements webpage
c. Bachelor degree transcript
d. Evidence of completion of Bachelor degree
e. Master degree transcript and evidence of completion of Master degree (if student has studied a Master degree between the Bachelor and PhD programs)
f. Current PhD transcript/evidence of current enrolment in a program of study overseas
g. Copy of official CSC scholarship letter
h. Letter from intended research supervisor at the University of Sydney

3. If an applicant meets all the entry requirements, the SGM team will send an Unconditional Admission Offer Letter and provide direction in how to make the necessary arrangements for Overseas Student Health Cover (OSHC).

4. Applicant must accept the offer and make arrangements for the necessary type and length of Overseas Student Health Cover (OSHC).

5. Once the applicant accepts the admission offer and makes the necessary OSHC arrangements, SGM will issue the electronic confirmation of enrolment (eCoE) and provide information on how to apply for the subclass 500 student visa.

6. The applicant will then apply for the subclass 500 student visa. Applicant should direct any questions about the student visa application process and requirements to their nearest Department of Immigration and Border Protection (DIBP) office.

Important information:

Lead time: SGM to receive completed application paperwork at least 4 months before the student’s intended arrival.

English Language Requirement: All applicants will be required to satisfy the University of Sydney’s English language proficiency requirements for admission. If at the time of application you do not have the English language proficiency documentation, you will be required to email it to sydneyabroad.vrp@sydney.edu.au by the 24 February 2017 for your application to be considered.

Research Periods: While discussing options with potential research supervisors, students should keep in mind that the Start and End dates for Research need to follow the session start date, census date, and session end date for the four research periods below. Enrolment on or before the census date determines the official enrolment status for a student in a particular period of study.
