The Clinical Psychology Unit (CPU) and School of Psychology have great pleasure in welcoming students to the Master of Clinical Psychology (MCP), Master of Clinical Psychology and Doctor of Philosophy (MCP/PhD) and Higher Degree by Research (HDR) programs.

The orientation meeting will provide an opportunity to meet staff and fellow students of the Clinical Psychology Unit (CPU) and School of Psychology. Students will hear important information about their course, and become familiar with the facilities of the CPU and School. It is compulsory for all first year, second and third year clinical students to attend the Orientation Meeting.

For first year clinical students, the Orientation Meeting will include an introduction to the CPU and teaching program, clinic information and clinic tours. All students will be guided through the course handbook to review important aspects of the program. After the meeting, students are encouraged to attend the informal social event with other postgraduate students of the School of Psychology.
