The University of Sydney would like to thank you for allowing your child to participate in our media activities at your organisation.

The University of Sydney would like to record your child participating in the activities associated with this organisation. The photographs and/or video may be used for a range of purposes. This may include, but is not limited to, magazines, newspapers, brochures, leaflets, annual reports, websites and other electronic media.

The photographs may be stored in the University of Sydney digital library. From the date they are taken, photographs may be used in University materials for up to 10 years.

The photographs may also be used by other third parties external to the University of Sydney, such as media organisations, for purposes connected to Widening Participation and Outreach. The University of Sydney accepts no responsibility whatsoever for the use of photographs and recordings by any of those third parties.

The University of Sydney is able to offer any compensation or fee for their, or a third party’s, use of any photograph, filmed or audio recorded materials.
