

MEDICINE PLACES AVAILABLE AT ROYAL NORTH SHORE HOSPITAL - 2020

Week Commencing	January				February				March					April				May					June					July				August					September				October				November					December
	6	13	20	27	3	10	17	24	2	9	16	23	30	6	13	20	27	4	11	18	25	1	8	15	22	29	6	13	20	27	3	10	17	24	31	7	14	21	28	5	12	19	26	2	9	16	23	30	7	14	21	28
Anatomical Pathology
Cardiology
Endocrinology
Gastroenterology
General Medicine
Geriatrics
Haematology
Medical Oncology
Neurology
Paediatrics (Hornsby Hospital)
Radiation Oncology
Renal Medicine
Rheumatology
Spinal Injuries

Note: For these placements, the minimum time you can spend in one specialty is 3 weeks, the maximum is 8 weeks.

Note: Anatomical Pathology is only available to students who have a genuine interest in the field.

Place available
 Place already filled

Place not available at this time of year
 No Supervisor available

Last Updated:
15/10/2019