

The Sydney Health Education Research Network (SHERN) warmly invites academics, clinicians, and professional staff to join us at the Showcase on 12 August 2019.

We invite you to join us for this interdisciplinary event, to be held at the Charles Perkins Centre, University of Sydney. The Showcase program will contain oral presentations on innovative practices in education and research. It will provide opportunities to network and share insights with colleagues from across the health professions. We hope you will join us.

Keynote speakers

Professor Jill Thistlethwaite is a general practitioner, Adjunct Professor, UTS, Editor-in-chief of The Clinical Teacher, and associate editor of the Journal of Interprofessional Care. She is Clinical chair, NSW hospital non-specialist training, HETI. Internationally recognised for her expertise in interprofessional education, Jill will discuss “Research in interprofessional education”.

Professor Lynn Monrouxe is currently the Associate Dean of Work Integrated Learning, Faculty of Health Sciences at the University of Sydney, having recently joined us from Taiwan where she was Director of the Chang Gung Medical Education Research Centre. She has extensive national and international research collaborations, with a focus on professional practice and learning, and the development of patient-centred professionalism in healthcare students, medical students’ and residents’ professional identity formation and their transitions from students to doctors. Lynn will discuss “Improving interprofessionalism practice through reflections on workplace dilemmas”.
