Measuring Patient-Reported Outcomes (PROs) in Research and Clinical Practice

ABSTRACT SUBMISSIONS AND REGISTRATION NOW OPEN

About the PROMS 2020 Conference

This three-day event, hosted by the Sydney Quality of Life Office at the University of Sydney and supported by the International Society for Quality of Life Research (ISOQOL), will include a 1-day conference with a mix of plenary sessions, oral presentations and posters, as well as specialist workshops on Days 1 and 3. This unique event will bring together leading international experts, researchers, and clinicians to engage with the latest advances in the field of patient-reported outcomes (PROs) research and implementation. Bringing researchers together across this region will facilitate networking, provide opportunities for collaboration and knowledge dissemination, and facilitate multi-disciplinary, cross-state and country research underpinned by rigorous PRO science and methodology.

The main conference day is Thursday 23 July 2020.

Full fee $160
Student/ISOQOL members $130

Keynote Speaker

We are pleased to confirm our keynote speaker, Professor Nancy Mayo, McGill University Health Centre Research Institute, Canada. Professor Mayo is a health outcomes, health services, and population health researcher with interests in all aspects of disability and quality of life in people with chronic diseases and the elderly.

REGISTER FOR THE CONFERENCE HERE

A preliminary program will be available soon. Keep checking the Sydney QOL Office website for further updates.
Call for Abstracts

The PROMS 2020 conference welcomes oral and poster abstracts from clinicians, researchers, patient partners, industry, and others working in the field of PROs.

Instructions for Abstract submission

Abstract submission are now open and will close on Friday 31st January 2020.

Abstract Themes

- PROs in clinical research
- PRO in clinical practice
- PROs in understudied populations: Indigenous people, CALD, paediatrics, children and young adults, geriatric/dementia

SUBMIT YOUR ABSTRACT HERE

Workshops

Day 1 Wednesday 22 July 2020

ISOQOL Introduction to Patient Reported Outcomes (iPRO course) 9.30 – 5pm

(Day 2- PROMS 2020 Conference)

Day 3 Friday 24 July 2020

Morning (9:00am – 12:00pm):
- WS1: Trial design and conduct: An introduction to SPIRIT PRO and strategies for reducing missing data
- WS2: Interpreting group differences and individual change: challenges and opportunities in PRO data
- WS3: Implementation Science and Patient Reported Outcome Measures in Routine Care

Afternoon (1:00pm – 4:00pm):
- WS4: PRO assessment in a multi-cultural context: Cross-cultural language translation and validation
- WS5: Key considerations for selecting PROs and QOL measures for clinical research and health economics
- WS6: Inclusion of patient reported outcome measures (PROMs) within health systems or services

REGISTER FOR WORKSHOPS HERE