Your Path to Sydney

27 March 2019
Novotel Parramatta
6 – 8pm

Join us to find your path to the University of Sydney.

Find the answers to all your questions as you progress through school and onto university. Discover the many pathways that could lead you to your dream degree.

Attend our presentation to hear from current undergraduate students about study options, real-world projects, exchange opportunities and more, followed by a talk from the University of Sydney Education Ambassador and 'Australia’s most famous maths teacher' Eddie Woo.

Meet University Staff and Students
University staff and current students will be on hand to answer questions about undergraduate degrees and future careers, university life, admissions pathways and anything else you want to know!
