

PERMISSION TO RELEASE PERSONAL INFORMATION FOR INTERNATIONAL STUDENTS

The University of Sydney is committed to maintaining the privacy of an individual's personal information, where it collects, stores and uses information. More information regarding privacy at the University may be found at: <http://sydney.edu.au/privacy-policy.html>.

By completing this form you consent to the University disclosing your personal information to the organisation you nominate. Your personal information includes: your student ID, name, course, email address, progress reports, enrolment status, academic results and financial details. Financial details include tuition fees, OSHC amount and membership details as well as other fees if applicable. Enrolment status includes informing your sponsor if you withdraw from or fail to enrol in your course (if applicable). Consent does not provide authority for changes to be made to your application or enrolment.

You have a right to access the personal information held about you and you may update these details, withdraw consent or correct your details at any time by making contact with the University provided on this form.
