

You are here:

TEACHING @ SYDNEY

December 2012

HERDSA Conference 2013 - Proposals due 22 February

The Higher Education Research and Development Society of Australasia (HERDSA) promotes the development of higher education policy, practice and the study of teaching and learning.

The annual HERDSA conference is an opportunity for you to to disseminate and showcase your scholarly work on teaching and learning. The 2013 conference is being held from 1-4 July, in beautiful Auckland at the Auckland University of Technology.

The call for papers is now open. You are invited to submit proposals about your work for posters and showcase presentations (20 minute presentations with audience discussion), as well as for full refereed papers. Accepted papers will be published in the refereed proceedings of the conference.

If you would like to discuss your proposal before submission then please contact us.

Proposals are due 22 February 2013, and registration opens 3 December 2012. For more information about the conference click here.
