TEACHING @ SYDNEY

February 2013

Attend a workshop to help you draft your teaching award application

The ITL is offering workshops to support applicants for Awards for Teaching Excellence including the Vice Chancellor's Awards and those offered by the Office of Learning and Teaching. These awards provide recognition for activities which promote and support excellence in teaching and learning.

Anyone considering applying, or re-applying, for an award, including applicants for faculty awards, is invited to attend the 2013 workshops. All three workshops provide information and support for drafting professional applications to meet the criteria for the awards. The first and second workshops will both focus on providing information. They have been planned for different days to provide opportunities for staff to attend. The third session will provide more targeted support for drafting an application. All sessions will provide time for questions.
